Race to Trap Crimea Nazis

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

MOSCOW, April 11 (AP)—Russia's Fourth Ukrainian Army stormed down into the Crimea from two directions today in a drive aimed at completely clearing South Russia of the Axis invaders as Gen. Malinovsky's Third Army smashed to within six miles of Ovidiopol, escape bottleneck through which the remnants of the Nazis' Odessa garrison were fleeing.

RUSSIA—Reds smash ahead (1), for 12 miles in two-way push into the Crimea while other Russian forces drive on after capturing (2), Odesa. In Romania, Reds (3), are reported to have forced the Siret and Suceava rivers.

Big Air Battles Rage in Reich

LONDON, April 11 (AP)—Great air battles were reported raging over northern and central Germany today as American bombers swarmed across Europe for the fourth successive day in the wake of a 900-plane RAF assault on railway targets in France and Belgium.

The Berlin radio said battles had broken out over the Brunswick and Hannover areas as Nazi fighters intercepted large U. S. formations.

The broadcast said violent aerial combats also were being fought over the Baltic area.

War Today Galati Gap Key to Oil

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

Associated Press War Analyst

The crucial battle for the gateway to the Balkans is boiling up. It will center in what is known as the Galati gap.

The gap, 50 miles wide, gets its name from the city of Galati in the center. It lies between the great curve of the Carpathian range as it swerves through northern Rumania, and the marshy delta of the Danube river on the Black sea.

The gap not only is the natural gateway into the Balkan peninsula, but it leads south to the Ploesti oil field, from which Hitler gets the petroleum without which he cannot long wage war. Thus he has a double reason to fight to a finish to hold the Galati opening—to protect the Balkans and to guard his precious oil wells.

One of Hitler's problems will be to find reserves to defend the gap and still maintain his strength against invasion in western Europe. The Nazis who are running away from Odessa, and other survivors of Manstein's forces in the southern Ukraine, are retreating toward Galati. And of course the Red armies are converging on Galati from the northwest, north and northeast.

We are likely soon to see one of two things: A terrific battle for the gap, with ultimate Nazi defeat, or an early German debacle owing to inability to find reserves to withstand the Red onslaught.

Von Papen's Turk Party

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP)—The Berlin radio said today Franz von Papen, German ambassador to Turkey, has arrived in Istanbul from Ankara and "will give a very great reception in the next few days."

Canadian Air Envoy Dies

OTTAWA, April 11 (AP)—Air Vice-Marshal Walter R. Kenny, 59, air attache for Canada in Washington, died today. He has been in the RCAF 23 years and held the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Jap Imphal Drive Held

NEW DELHI, April 11 (AP)—Jap pressure continues in the Kohima area of eastern India, while farther south Allied troops have clashed with Japs in the foothills of the Imphal plain and repulsed an attack southeast of Imphal, the southeast Asia command declared today.

Kohima is 35 miles from the Gengal-Assam railway. The bulletin said "pressure was maintained against a defended locality in the Kohima area" and north and south of the Manipur road.

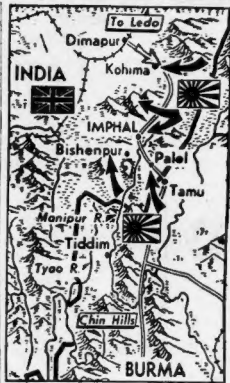

A Jap thrust near Palel, 25 miles southwest of Imphal, was thrown back.

(The Tokyo radio claimed, without confirmation, an advanced Jap party striking from the north reached within six miles of Imphal.)

Allied patrols struck from the Imphal plain against enemy units laying siege to that strategic area. They ambushed the Japs near the Tiddim road and inflicted casualties in the foothills northeast of the plain, the communique from Lord Mountbatten's headquarters said.

To the west, in north Burma, Chinese forces driving down the Mogaung valley area captured Wakawing, six miles south of Shadung, seized by American troops.

On the Arakan front in west Burma, Jap resistance stiffened near the main Mayu range south of the Maungdaw-Buthedaung road.

INDIA—Heavy fighting was in progress for Kohima today after defending British and Indian troops hurled back (white arrow), a strong Jap attack on the city. Black arrows mark Jap drives.

Japs in Retreat Rush to Rabaul

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, April 11 (AP)—American forces control most of New Britain, Gen. MacArthur announced today. The Japanese have abandoned supply and fuel bases at Gasmata and Cape Hoskins and are in full retreat to Rabaul.

The Nipponese have lost around 10,000 men dead and wounded since American soldiers and Marines opened the New Britain campaign in December.

A headquarters spokesman estimated the loss at one-fifth of the 50,000 Japanese strength on the island at the start of the campaign.

Since soldiers of Lieut. Gen. Walter Kruger's Sixth Army landed at Arawe Dec. 15 and the Marines' invasion of Cape Gloucester on the western tip of the island Dec. 26, Japanese casualties have been 235 prisoners and 4679 abandoned dead, with wounds, starvation and disease more than doubling this figure, MacArthur's communique said.

Allied conquests in the Bismarck archipelago in the past few months have cut Japanese supply lines and stranded the enemy troops in New Britain.

4 Shot in Army Prison Riot

FORT JACKSON, S. C., April 11 (AP)—Four men were wounded, one seriously, when Army guards used shotguns to break up a riot among prisoners in the rehabilitation center here last week-end, the post public relations officer disclosed today.

The brief announcement said the rioters hurled coal, damaged property and massed against a guard tower before the guards opened fire.

Arrangements were made to return participants in the disturbance to federal prisons. The center was set up to rehabilitate military prisoners for return to Army duty.

Anzio Italians Capture Nazi

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, April 11 (AP)—Italian troops holding Mt. Marrone, mile-high peak 15 miles northeast of Cassino, have repulsed small German thrusts at two points, killing seven and taking one prisoner—first announced capture of a Nazi by the new army of liberated Italy.

The American ambush patrol on the Anzio beachhead, meanwhile, trapped a six-man German patrol three miles west of Littoria, killing three and wounding two. British troops two miles southeast of Carroceto on the other side of the beachhead drove off a German platoon with casualties. Other Nazi infiltration attempts in that sector were repulsed.

As shelling and patrol clashes continued along the main Fifth Army front, a headquarters commentator said recent German replacements in Italy have included soldiers who lost some of their toes as a result of frostbite on the Russian front.

A U. S. destroyer bombarded German positions around the beachhead Sunday.

Giraud Ouster Review Likely

ALGIERS, April 11 (AP)—The reaction of certain members of the French consultative assembly to Gen. de Gaulle's ouster of Gen. Giraud brought up the possibility today the French Committee on National Liberation might review its action of last week which named Giraud inspector-general of the French army. Giraud refused to recognize the action.

The committee will meet again this evening. Officials said the entire committee was involved in the De Gaulle-Giraud dispute and described the situation as serious. Assemblymen were reported not over-concerned about Giraud's dismissal as French commander-in-chief, but were said to be irritated at the manner in which it was done.

Q. Roosevelt to Wed

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND (AP)—Capt. Quentin Roosevelt, 24, son of Brig.-Gen. Theodore Roosevelt, and Miss Frances Webb, 26, of Kansas City, Mo., an American Red Cross worker, will be married Wednesday morning in an English church, was learned today.

Hollace Mae Shaw, radio singer whose professional name is Vivien and Maj. Clarence T. Foster, USAAF, obtained a marriage license in New York . . . and announced they planned to be married tomorrow in New York's First Christian Church. It will be Maj. Foster's second marriage, his fiancée's first.

Hershey lists Critical Jobs

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey today issued a list of critical activities in which he authorized state draft directors to defer key men under 26. The list did not include coal mining but it was announced state directors in certain coal-producing areas were being given special authorization to defer individual registrants whose induction would result in "serious curtailment in (coal) production."

Pre-professional students will be deferred only if they can enter a recognized school of medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, osteopathy or theology before July 1.

Students in those professional schools, internships (provided the total period of internship shall not exceed nine months) and undergraduates in certain listed engineering and scientific courses who will graduate before July 1 also will get deferments.

State directors were authorized by telegram to recommend men under 26 for deferment when special forms are filed (forms 42 A-special) and when they are engaged in the following industrial activities:

1—Under jurisdiction of the office of the rubber director: Research, piloting and production of synthetic rubbers, butadiene and styrene; production of essential raw materials in three government-owned plants operated by the Rubber Reserves Co. (at Memphis, Tenn.; Naugatuck, Ct., and Philadelphia); manufacture of reclaimed rubber; manufacture of essential rubber goods permitted under rubber order R-1; manufacture of rubber processing machinery.

2—Army service forces: DUKWS (amphibious "ducks"), rockets; radar; critical components for trucks, heavy and light-heavy (light and heavier), including truck trailers and class 1 and 2 tractors; research and development work specifically assigned by the technical services (Army to supply list).

3—Army Air Forces: Group 1-4 aircraft only specified items (covering certain craft not otherwise publicly described).

4—Navy Department: Landing craft, rockets, submarines, aircraft carriers, high capacity ammunition, radar, aircraft in group 1-4, ships and aircraft maintenance including modification centers.

5—War Production Board: Component parts of approved critical programs when such production is not under the direct supervision of the armed services or other claimant agencies.

6—Maritime Commission: Combat-loaded transport, combat-loaded cargo vessels and tankers.

7—Petroleum Administration for War: Aviation gasoline program and synthetic rubber components, technical services vital to aviation gasoline program and synthetic rubber components, special technical services essential to production of crude petroleum.

8—OFFICE OF DEFENSE TRANSPORTATION, Great Lakes and Inland Waterways—(a) Only captains and chief engineers; (b) other licensed officers for 1944 navigation season.

Airlines—Flight personnel, ground personnel only outside the continental United States.

Railroads and for hire trucking—personnel engaged in railway and motor transport service directly related to the movement of war freight necessary to support the immediate war objectives the withdrawal of which would decrease the safety, speed, and volume of movement so as to adversely affect such war objectives, also (A) railway personnel engaged in assembly line, haul, and break-up of railway freight trains.

Police in Hunt For Saugus Girl

Mysterious disappearance of Ruth Churchill, 13-year-old Saugus Junior High School student, who vanished last Sunday night, was investigated today by police.

Her family said she had little money with her. Ruth, a blue-eyed, brown-haired girl, who appears older than she is, was last seen at 7 p. m. Sunday, when she left the home of her mother, Mrs. Ruth Leonard, and her grandfather, John Wildfeldt, in Mt. Auburn st., Watertown.

They said she spent the weekend with them and departed for the home of her step-mother, Mrs. George Churchill, in Herbert ave., Saugus.

She would have made the trip by bus, her step-mother said.

Ruth, five feet five, was wearing a navy-blue dress with white stripes, a tan coat and blue tam hat. She was carrying a paper bag containing clothes.

Naphtha Motor Fuel Use Curbed by U. S.

WASHINGTON, April 11 (INS)—The Petroleum Administration issued orders designed to curb the use of naphtha as a motor fuel.

Acting Administrator Ralph E. Davies declared that great quantities of naphtha have been going into automobile gasoline tanks, a practice which he said may seriously affect supplies of naphtha for legitimate uses.

Cheap Sleep

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Sleep's cheaper. Consumers will pay less for metal folding cots, rollaway cots and double-deck beds, steel for which is again permitted, than they have been paying for substitutes made with wooden frames, the Office of Price Administration (OPA) said today.

Dorsey Police Trial Ordered

Capt. John A. Dorsey, until December in charge of Charlestown police station, will be tried before a police trial board, it was announced today on charges contained in the report of Atty. Gen. Henry L. Shattuck and Charles B. Rugg.

The commissioner made no announcement concerning other officers recently under grand jury fire. Dorsey and his counsel, Wendell P. Murray, had emerged from a conference with the commissioner at headquarters, where they had been read the report and given a copy just before the commissioner's announcement.

In the report, it was revealed, the attorneys who investigated charges by Atty.-Gen. Bushnell that Dorsey and four other police officials conspired to permit gambling in Boston, made the following accusations against Dorsey:

"Neglect of duty, neglect or disobedience of orders, incapacity, inefficiency or the state of being incapable of effective action or indisposed to it; general inefficiency and incompetence."

RECOMMEND CHARGES

In the report, a partial report dealing only with alleged conditions in the Charlestown division, Atty. Shattuck and Rugg concluded:

"We recommend that charges be preferred against Capt. John A. Dorsey under the applicable provisions of the statutes and rules and regulations of the police department."

Commr. Sullivan said an "agreeable date" will be set for the trial board hearing and that Dorsey and Murray were at liberty to confer meanwhile at any time "relative to details of the charges and specifications to be filed immediately."

ACCUSED OF LAXITY

The police head said he was not prepared to say at this time the makeup of the trial board.

When Dorsey and his counsel heard the report and were given a copy they made no comment, the commissioner stated.

Asked if he had given the police captain his choice of retiring or facing charges, the commissioner replied:

"You don't retire a man when charges are being preferred."

In the partial report on their probe of Bushnell's charges, Atty. Shattuck and Rugg declared:

"We are impressed by the laxity, the indifference and the disregard of the fundamental principles of law enforcement and public welfare of Capt. John A. Dorsey in the following-up of repeated complaints transmitted to him for investigation and report concerning gambling operations on Division 15."

"In these complaints, names and the locations of such operations at 16 City sq. were given, followed invariably by negative reports from Capt. Dorsey, and yet day after day gambling operations were going on at that location, which is in the immediate vicinity and in sight of the police station."

POLICEMAN SINCE 1908

Ironically enough, it was Capt. Dorsey who, as a lieutenant, made the first arrest in the campaign of a previous police commissioner, Eugene C. Hultman, against gambling and lotteries, on May 9, 1931.

Dorsey was appointed to the police department June 23, 1908, as a special officer and was assigned to station 6, Athens st., South Boston. Four years later he was transferred to police headquarters as a plainclothes detective and proceeded to set up an enviable record as a pursuer of criminals.

In March, 1919, he was advanced to the rank of detective-sergeant, remaining at headquarters, and less than three years later was promoted to lieutenant.

From then, until 1935, when he was assigned to the office of the then Atty.-Gen. Paul A. Dever to head the investigating force, Dorsey handled almost every variety of assignment that comes to a city police detective.

Dorsey served as bodyguard for many important personages visiting Boston, including the present Duke of Windsor when he visited Massachusetts as the Prince of Wales, though under the cognomen "Baron Renfrew."

He also handled certain confidential assignments in the investigation of the Lindbergh kidnapping case.

In 1937, while still assigned to the state prosecutor's office, he was promoted to captain, and on Oct. 4, 1939, was placed in command of Charlestown station.

Adoption Plans Delay Kidnaped Boy's Return

Mrs. Alice Chace of Fall River arrived in New York today to claim her 2½-year-old son Jimmy, only to learn that the sweet-faced youngster, with the captivating smile and large brown eyes, had been sent out by the New York Foundling Hospital to a foster home for trial adoption. The boy was found abandoned in a New York subway last January.

British Commandos Wiped Out, Nazis Say

LONDON, April 11 (AP)—The German high command, in its broadcast communique today, said a British Commando force which landed on the west coast of Rhodes, off Turkey, had been wiped out.

Nazis Used Gas In Odessa, Reds Say

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP)—The Germans and Rumanians "used poison gas against the Partisans" during their occupation of Odessa, the Moscow radio said today in a broadcast heard by CES.

Acting on complaints from tenants, the City Council today issued requests to members of the Boston Housing Authority to appear before the council next Monday to explain reported sharp increases in housing project rentals.

The council also adopted an order asking the corporation counsel to file a bill with the Legislature to permit the city to levy a "use" tax on all horses entered at Suffolk Downs except those owned by Boston residents.

WASHINGTON, April 11 (INS)—Word reached Washington today that high officials of the Vatican are alarmed over German reprisals in the Rome area.

The reprisals take the form of shooting all persons suspected of giving aid to the Allies. Mysteriously and without warning, Italians are rounded up, taken to a location outside the city by the truckload and shot by machine guns.

Victims of such reprisals have disappeared "by the thousands," it was stated.

Invasion Hospitals Sprung Up in Britain

LONDON, April 11 (AP)—New buildings furnished with hospital equipment shipped from the United States have sprung up across Britain to care for casualties of the coming invasion.

Mansions also have been taken over and turned into hospitals. The layout of the big emergency medical program includes gymnasiums and other rehabilitation facilities.

The staffs include doctors and nurses from the United States and Canada as well as English WAAFS and ATS trained as nursing orderlies.

Following the Senate caucus, three prominent Republican leaders, President Jarvis Hunt of the Senate, and Rep. Henry L. Shattuck and Sen. Joseph Francis, chairman of the postwar rehabilitation commission, publicly expressed their opposition to passage of the bonus and hospitalization legislation at this time.

Hunt, in a radio speech, cautioned against rushing into any legislation which might merely overlap federal government programs.

He said Gov. Saltonstall already has transferred $500,000 from the emergency fund for preparation of plans for postwar additional hospitalization facilities, which would provide 1782 additional beds in mental hospitals and 100 beds at Soldiers' Home, Chelsea.

Solons Set to Defer Vet Bonus Passage

Republican leaders today were reported prepared to introduce a resolve which would permit the State Legislature to record itself in favor of a bonus for returning veterans and at the same time accept the recommendation of the Joint Military Affairs Committee to defer action, both on the bonus and other veterans' legislation, until the next regular session in January.

This compromise resolve was reportedly agreed upon at a GOP Senate caucus as a means of allowing legislators to express themselves in support of the bonus measure and yet refer it to the Rehabilitation Commission for further study.

Prospects Dimmed

The caucus action, dimming prospects of passage now of the bonus and hospitalization bills, was interpreted as meaning that the Republican majority had been swung to support of Gov. Saltonstall's stand that the State should await final action by the federal government on these measures.

Before the Legislature recessed last week, the bonus appeared to have considerable bi-partisan support.

If the veterans' legislation is bypassed today, leaders predicted an early prorogation. The House appeared disinclined to consider new legislation when, by a roll call vote of 167 to 52, it killed legislation for a constitutional amendment to lower the voting age to 18.

Oppose Passage

Following the Senate caucus, three prominent Republican leaders, President Jarvis Hunt of the Senate, and Rep. Henry L. Shattuck and Sen. Joseph Francis, chairman of the postwar rehabilitation commission, publicly expressed their opposition to passage of the bonus and hospitalization legislation at this time.

Hunt, in a radio speech, cautioned against rushing into any legislation which might merely overlap federal government programs.

32 Cut Off By Slide

BERTHOUD PASS, Col., April 11 (AP)—Marooned high in the Rockies by a road-swamping avalanche and heavy snows, 32 persons, including three babies, waited today for their rescue and word concerning a severely injured WAVE officer who was taken down the mountainside in an Army snow buggy.

While huge snowplows chewed their way up the east and west slopes of this 11,314-foot pass, soldiers applied their Arctic training yesterday in carrying supplies to the summit. Corps. Dick Holmes, Frank Pichini and E. Lopez, ski troopers stationed at nearby Echo Lake, snowshoed in with first-aid supplies.

The marooned party took shelter in the summit lodge Sunday night after a rumbling snowslide swept three automobiles off the road and stalled others. One young woman, buried inside her car by eight feet of snow, dug her way upward to safety.

The WAVE officer, Lieut. Helen Barr Durfee of Los Angeles, gamely ignored the pain from a back injury last night while she was strapped to a toboggan, which then was placed in the rear of the Army snow vehicle. The snowmobile traveled six miles down the mountain to an ambulance.

2 Carried Out In Chelsea Fire

A mother and 4-year-old boy were carried to safety today when fire swept their home and a business block in Washington ave., Chelsea.

Paul Regan of the Fire Prevention Bureau rescued the two, Mrs. Mabel Neal's other three children were away—two in school, and a son, Robert, in a hospital after his return from Guadalcanal.

Another tenant, Ralph Ranzulli, escaped. Also uninjured were Joseph Gaggioli, owner of a barber shop on the first floor, and John Ferlstein, proprietor of a drug store.

The block was headquarters of the air raid warden of Ward 5.

Cause of the fire, which caused about $1500 damage, was not immediately determined. The blaze started on the roof.

Camacho in Unity Plea After Shooting

MEXICO CITY, April 11 (AP)—President Manuel Avila Camacho barely escaped assassination by a young Mexican army lieutenant who later made a break for freedom and was himself seriously wounded.

A bullet fired at point-blank range pierced Avila Camacho's coat, but the husky president helped overpower his assailant, identified as Lieut. Jose Antonio De La Lama Rojas, 31. An official bulletin said "several documents from Nazi sources" were found upon him, but there was amplification.

Lama Rojas attacked two guards taking him from the national palace to army barracks, and fled through a suburban street before he was felled by a bullet below his chest. Gen. Francisco Urquiza, undersecretary of national defense, announced.

Pres. Camacho, who took Mexico into war on the side of the Allies, told reporters this "isolated incident" did not represent "a division of the Mexican family." He appealed for calmness, declaring, "let us go forward to make stronger the union of the Mexican family."

He still wore his bullet-torn coat when he received reporters. The missile penetrated the coat at the right side in front, breast high, and emerged at the left side near the breast pocket.

There was no immediate explanation why the young officer, a nephew of the late Gen. Samuel C. Rojas, former Mexican air force chief, made the attempt. It was the first attempt on the life of a Mexican President since a youth wounded President Ortiz Rubio in the jaw a few minutes after his inauguration Feb. 5, 1930.

Short-Kimmel Ruling Sought by Knox

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Sec. Knox said today he would seek a legal ruling on the postponement of the trials of Maj. Gen. William C. Short and Vice Adm. Husband E. Kimmel, charged with dereliction of duty in connection with the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941.

Miss Edith Mathews, superintendent of the nursing home where they will remain until the end of April, said so today, adding: "Michael, especially, is thriving. He now weighs six and one-half pounds. Madeline weighs five and three-quarters pounds and Maureen, five and one-quarter."

Mistrial in Girl Attack Case

Still suffering from the ordeal of relating the details of an alleged attempted criminal assault on her, Mrs. Thelma Ward, 21-year-old wife of a wounded Coast Guardsman, was unable to resume the witness stand in Suffolk Superior Court today, and Judge Williams declared a mistrial.

The trial of her alleged assailant, Donald Lewis, 19, of Andover, was dramatically interrupted yesterday when Mrs. Ward collapsed as she told of Lewis' alleged assault. She was taken to Carney Hospital and physicians said today she was not recovered sufficiently to testify.

Lewis is charged with assault and robbery of $101, and assault and battery with intent to commit a criminal attack.

She told investigators her husband is on duty in New Orleans. She said she came here from Wisconsin, where she earned a living as a hula dancer.

Nazis Claim Rout Of Torpedo Boats

LONDON, April 11 (AP)—British motor torpedo boats attempted to attack a German convoy off the Dutch coast during the night but were beaten off by escort vessels after a sharp engagement, the Berlin radio said today.

"Several hits were scored on the attacking boats," said the broadcast. "We suffered only small damage."

Hula Girl Tells Of Cabin Attack

Dazed and injured after a harrowing night in a Peabody tourist cabin as captive of two men who boasted they were "Revere gangsters," Mrs. Angelo Prioli, 27, red-haired hula dancer, was taken to City Hospital today, victim of a criminal attack.

She said she was abducted by the pair at midnight, as she left a restaurant in Exchange st., Lynn, for her home in New Ocean street.

More than six hours later she was hurried from their speeding car in Chelsea st., East Boston, suffering a concussion and severe back injuries, which rendered her unconscious.

A graduate of the University of Minnesota and the wife of an absent Coast Guardsman, Mrs. Prioli was subjected to a nightmare of violence and threats against her life, she told police.

THREATEN HER LIFE

She said the most horrifying part of her experience was at the Hollywood Cabins in Peabody, where the abductors criminally attacked and taunted her and threatened her with death if she told.

The auburn-tressed dancer said as she left the Lynn restaurant to go home, two men hailed her from a sedan parked at the curb.

"They called me 'Terry,' my nickname," she said, "and asked if they could drive me home. I thought they were men I knew, so I entered the car.

"Then they said they would kill me if I made an outcry. They drove to the cabins, hired one and forced me to go in.

BEATEN ON MOUTH

"One of them—the other called him, 'Bill'—threw me on the bed and attacked me. Every time I screamed he struck my mouth.

"Next the other man tried to attack me. His friend said, 'Go ahead, Joe,' somehow I got out of the cabin.

"I ran and screamed for help as loud as I could. The lights went on everywhere. A man came up to me—he wasn't with the two who kidnaped me—and called me a vile name. He said: 'Shut up. Do you want to wake up everybody?' Then he slapped my face."

HURLED FROM AUTO

Mrs. Prioli's hope of rescue faded when her captors again threw her into their car.

"As they drove off," she continued, "they told me they were Revere gangsters. One said, 'If you tell the cops about this, we'll take care of you the way we took care of a certain Revere guy a year ago.'"

On the way to East Boston,

Mrs. Prioli said, one of the men attempted to attack her again.

"We were going about 40 miles an hour on Chelsea st.," she said, "when one of the men pushed me out the door.

"I remember turning over and over and feeling a horrible pain. The next thing I knew there were a lot of people standing around me and the police took me to City Hospital."

Shipyard Men Balk At Ban on Coffee

HOBOKEN, N. J., April 11 (AP)—Several thousand workers at the Bethlehem Steel Co. shipyard are refusing to work overtime in protest against what they describe as a company order prohibiting coffee-drinking on the job.

The local president said the men customarily drank coffee at their machines after they had completed their regular eight-hour shift, but it did not interfere with work.

Doubts Hitler Defeat in 1944

WASHINGTON, April 12 (AP)—Vice-Admiral F. J. Horne, second in command to Admiral Ernest J. King, chief of the U. S. Navy, believes Germany will still be on her feet at the end of this year.

Horne expressed doubt the European war would be over in 1944 when he testified before the House appropriations subcommittee which handled the Navy's record budget for the next fiscal year. The testimony was released today.

Adm. King forecast to the committee that the Navy would reach its peak this year and, discussing the Pacific, observed the Japanese strategy has been "comparatively simple."

"In the first few months," he

M'Arthur, Stassen In Two-State Test

By GARDNER BRIDGE
By the Associated Press

General Douglas MacArthur's voter appeal was tested today in Illinois, birthplace of the National MacArthur-for-President Clubs, while Nebraska plumbed the popularity of another absent warrior, Lieut.-Comdr. Harold E. Stassen.

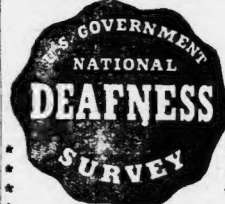

In neither of the presidential preferential primaries were the successful convention delegates bound to support any particular candidate, but the backers of MacArthur and Stassen hoped to show by sheer weight of numbers that their men had captured the public fancy.

The lineup in the two states, briefly, was this:

Illinois — Gen. MacArthur, entered without his authorization, was pitted against Riley Bender, Chicago real estate man and political newcomer. Both major parties elect 50 convention delegates, with the Republicans to choose nine more and the Democrats eight more later. Six of the 80 Republican candidates have expressed a preference for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, three for Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, two for MacArthur, and one each for Gov. Dwight H. Green of Illinois, Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune which is backing MacArthur, and Henry J. Kaiser.

Nebraska—Stassen was left unopposed after Wendell Willkie's withdrawal from the presidential contest. It was too late to remove Willkie's name from the ballot, however, and there may be a sizable sentimental vote for him. Supporters of Governor Dewey predicted a heavy write-in vote for the New Yorker. Nebraska's Governor Griswold was entered as a "favorite son."

Hold Pacific Isles, Says Bricker

By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN

SPOKANE, Wash., April 11.—Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio came back to Spokane after an absence of 23 years, on his first visit to the west coast since he became his state's "favorite son" candidate for the Republican nomination for president.

In one of the busiest days of his career, Gov. Bricker addressed a breakfast gathering of 700 of the "Early Birds," delivered the keynote address at the Spokane County Republican convention and was interviewed at a morning conference at the Spokane Press Club, and again over the radio at noon.

He brought assurances of Republican victory in November over the regimentation and absolutism of the Roosevelt New Deal, and was repeatedly applauded at the county convention as he drove home the salient points of his philosophy of government and economics.

CONFERS WITH LEADERS

In the afternoon he went with members of his staff, to Coeur D'Alene, Idaho, for conferences with prominent Republican Party leaders of that state.

Among those who welcomed Gov. Bricker was Eric A. Johnston of Spokane, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, who has been himself frequently mentioned as a possible "dark horse" Republican presidential nominee.

Twice during the day Gov. Bricker said he expected Wendell L. Willkie would continue to do what he could for the Republican party, notwithstanding his defeat in Wisconsin.

He said the New Deal had ignored the West by not giving this section representation in the cabinet or on the Supreme Court.

"The West Coast," he said, "is on the threshold of the most amazing industrial and agricultural development the world has ever seen."

At his press club conference Gov. Bricker went at considerable length into his views of post-war policy in the Pacific.

HOLD ISLANDS

"I frankly think all of the islands of the Pacific that we need for defense of our own territory, or for the defense of our trade rights, or for the preservation of our commitments, ought to be retained," he said.

"After the last war we permitted the Japanese to violate the mandates and did nothing about it. The people of the country were not told about it. We were not even permitted to make inspections. Our ships were not permitted to land. Our citizens were not permitted to know what was being done in the mandated islands in violation of the treaty.

"The 'white book' rather indicates that the Administration did know that certain things were being done out there in violation of treaty arrangements.

"So it comes back again to my faith in representative government, but you can't have representative government effective and functioning unless the people are advised on all matters, both national, domestic and international."

Top U. S. Ace, Pal Pick 'Em Off Easily

A U. S. FIGHTER BASE, England, April 11 (AP)—Capt. Don S. Gentile, the leading United States Air Force ace in the European theater, makes the job of mowing down Nazi planes sound as easy as picking birds off a fence.

Asserting in an interview that he believed the Germans—apparently short of experienced fighter pilots—are sending up novices with one veteran to lead them, the 23-year-old Fiqua, O., airman added:

"The Germans always seem to fly in twos or fours, strung out in a line, and they keep right behind the leader no matter what happens—as if they are afraid to branch off."

The dark, handsome Mustang pilot who has destroyed 20 planes in the air, with claims of three more pending, in addition to seven destroyed on the ground, willingly acknowledges his debt to his wing man, Lieut. Johnny Godfrey, 21, of Woonsocket, R. I., who has 16 kills himself.

Godfrey flies behind him, either to the right or left. Gentile asks over the radio phone: "Are you still with me Johnny? Are you still with me Johnny? Any German flier who understands English can hear them plotting his doom."

"You break to the starboard," Gentile will call out, "and I'll hesitate and if he follows you around I'll follow him and we'll have him right between us."

"They like to tackle the tail end man first—it is hard for him to play follow-the-leader and see what is coming up behind."

"If we get him, we just keep moving up the line," Gentile said.

"Sometimes you can pick off all of them right up to the leader before he knows about it."

"Snow White" Contestants Win Places in Finals

Hundreds Tested In Snow White Sing

With 14 out of 380 contestants in the first auditions for the $1000 "Princess Snow White" cash prize chosen for the finals, several hundred more New England girls today took their tests before microphones in the Yankee Network, studios in Brookline ave., Back Bay.

Auditions for the contest, sponsored by RKO Radio Pictures, Walt Disney Productions, Inc., and the Record-American-Sunday Evening, will continue through Thursday, with finals scheduled for Thursday night. More than 1500 entries were received.

The judges are Thomas F. Luby of the Boston public schools; Muriel Benson of the Saltman

Studio, and Theo Carriero, vocal teacher.

Chosen for the finals were: Ann Short, 34 Church st., Boston; Marilyn Shotz, 31 Ransom rd., Brighton; Estelle Freedland, 203 Shirley st., Winthrop; Lola Savaglia, 111 Queensbury st., Back Bay; Joan Beals, 99 Hawthorne st., Needham; Sophie Bloomberg, 15 Melvin ave., Brighton; Edith Hayes, 463 Broadway, South Boston; Maria E. Garasi, 12 Eaton st., Boston; Marjorie Chalmers, 90 Highland rd., Brookline; Olga Opolka, 173 Arlington st., Chelsea; Virginia Utudian, 969 Washington st., South Braintree; Christine Kuske, 58 Auburn st., Exeter, N. H.; Lorraine Galliani, 131 Ash st., Chelsea; Virginia Tobin of 764 East 5th st., South Boston.

Each of the contestants is permitted to sing one song, a chorus and a verse, and must appear at the time allotted with their audition cards, or be ruled out.

The contest, organized to find a girl or woman with an unusual singing voice in New England, is being conducted in conjunction with the RKO Radio Pictures 50-city premiere of Walt Disney's "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." The picture opens in Boston April 14, at the Normandie and Majestic theaters.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or uneasy passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Office Paper Drive Spurred

Although the office waste paper and cleanup drive does not start officially until May 1, Elmer Lipsett, secretary of the committee of the Advertising Club of Boston, sponsoring the program, today appealed to all business and professional men to begin immediately to get paper ready for collection.

He suggested as contribution sources filing matter, stored materials, publications, magazines and directories, pointing out that information they contain often is easily obtainable at business and public libraries.

"Much paper that can be disposed of is in almost every business desk," he said. "In the final analysis, there is little paper which it is actually necessary to save."

Jap India Success Now Seen Assured

By RAY RICHARDS

WASHINGTON, April 11—The political as well as the military danger in India reportedly assumed a major place in the private discussions of high war authorities in Washington today, amid the rapid fading of hope that a strategic section of the country can be saved from the Japanese.

Into comment by rank-and-file residents who have been inclined to forgive the sacrifice of Manila, Hong Kong and Singapore entered a sharp note of indignation that the Allies, at this late date, have allowed the enemy to steal such another march as the one on Imphal and the Assam-Bengal rail line supplying American forces.

Military writers who a fortnight ago were discounting the importance of the Japanese offensive now have reversed themselves.

BACK OUR BOYS WITH WAR BONDS

some with frank admissions that they had erred.

The rising of alarm was accelerated by the obviously-timed demand of Indian National leaders for the release of Mohandas K. Gandhi and the calling of elections to legislative bodies throughout the Indian empire.

The thought that the native populations might give wholesale aid to the Japanese has been one of the greatest dreads created by the Japanese push.

The Indian Nationalist demand was advanced from a meeting at Lucknow by veterans of the India independence movement as the Japanese stepped up their offensive and covered India with perhaps the most adroit and forceful radio propaganda campaign on the entire World War.

Washington opinion seems to hold that the Lucknow meeting was intended purely to harass the British under the threat of the Japanese assault.

The Allies have only until the monsoon rains start next month to drive the Japanese out of India, and today's dispatches indicate that the increasingly heavy power of the enemy offensive has left the Allies with small hope of defense, and none at all for a successful counter attack.

If the Japanese gain Imphal within a month—and even the unfailingly optimistic communicates from British headquarters do not deny that engagements are being fought almost at the outskirts of that big supply and transport station—they will have until the weather clears in October to conduct the consolidation in which they are expert, and to prepare for the next advance.

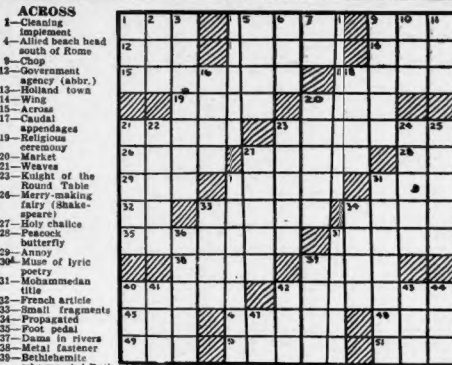

Probe Reappearance Of Waste Coupons

HAVERHILL, April 11—The reappearance at filling stations here of gasoline ration coupons, sent to the Haverhill Boxboard plant by the State OPA as waste paper today prompted a widespread investigation by state police and federal agents.

The stolen stamps, worth thousands of gallons of gasoline, were part of 24 tons of coupons gathered by the OPA from all sections of the state and shipped here to be milled as waste paper. The shipments were guarded, it was reported.

White's Shows Postwar Kitchen

The "Kitchen of Tomorrow," a post war home project designed to end kitchen drudgery for the American housewife, was displayed at R. H. White's today.

The sample kitchen of the future proved to be a "round-the-clock room, capable of instant conversion into playroom, buffet bar, or study room for the children after meals. All working units in the room are placed to eliminate stooping and bending, and structural details are so arranged that the woman of the house can do three-fourths of her work while seated.

Perfect lighting conditions are assured by large "picture windows," while the dining alcove easily transforms itself into another living room as the table, folded into the wall, becomes a glass mural, framed by the folding legs. The "Kitchen of Tomorrow" was created by the Libby-Owens-Ford Co.

Col. Smith Sends New 18-26 Order to State Draft Boards

Massachusetts draft boards for the present should "practically limit" inductions to men from 18 to 26 years old, Col. Ralph M. Smith, state selective service director, advised today in a letter on "Classification Policies" sent to all local boards and boards of appeal.

Admitting "our job is getting more complicated each day," Col. Smith said it was his intention "to require convincing proof of absolute indispensability to the war effort" before signing any deferments in the 18 to 26 group.

Responsibility for deferment will be his, he declared, insofar as occupational groups, except agricultural and exceptions made by the national director, are concerned.

"So far as age group 26-29, inclusive, fathers or non-fathers, is concerned," he told the boards,

"the responsibility is largely yours, subject only to appeal to the President."

LIBERAL TO OLDER DADS

"I believe here a rigid interpretation of regulations should be observed. Only registrants who clearly qualify under provisions of local board memoranda Nos. 115-B and 161, should be considered for deferment, and convincing proof they do so qualify should be requested and obtained."

"When we arrive at age group 30-37, inclusive, however, I believe exactly the opposite policy should prevail. So far as non-fathers are concerned, they essentially to the war effort should be carefully considered, but for fathers 30 and over who are performing useful functions, interpretations should be extremely liberal."

"This policy is not limited to war production, but applies also to agricultural and all other war supporting activities."

"Neither do I limit, in my mind, a war supporting activity to an activity appearing on any list, such as the activity and occupation bulletins. I believe right here is where the common sense of the boards is very important."

WOULD KEEP UP MORALE

"To me it is important to keep up our civilian economy and morale and we should not be so 'hard-boiled' on the age group 30 and over as to disrupt our necessary functions, civil or military."

Col. Smith made it plain that inductions should be practically limited at this time to the 18-26 age group, "even if we do not maintain deliveries as per our calls."

Earlier, he had stated that in a day or so, when local boards' machinery had been set up, the week-end Washington order suspending at least until May 8 the drafting of men over 25 who are in essential work, would be operating smoothly.

While Col. Smith discounted reports of confusion on the part of local boards over the intentions of National Selective Service Director Hershey's deferment ruling, many boards have taken exactly opposite stands in the matter, some sending older men to Ft. Devens who were eligible for the 30-day delay.

Chelsea Man Hit by Car

Struck by an automobile in Central sq., Cambridge, early today, Frank Nawoogevik, of Poplar st., Chelsea, was taken in a police ambulance to Cambridge City Hospital where his name is on the danger list. He suffered a fractured skull, fractured leg and internal injuries.

A, B, C on the Draft After 18-26 Ruling

By JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Draft-age men up to 38—now that selective service (SS) has ordered drafting of all men possible under 26—ask themselves: How does this affect me?

The order will be carried out in different ways because various draft boards have different problems and only this much can be answered simply:

There is to be a clean sweep of men 18 through 25, except those deferred for super-essentiality.

Does this mean no men over 26 will be drafted until all under 26 are drafted?

No. Men 26 to 38, not in war jobs, war-related jobs or jobs considered necessary, will be drafted without delay.

But SS has ordered 26-38 men, whose jobs boards consider essential, not inducted until 18-26 men are taken. The reason: Army and Navy want 18-26 men most and wants them first.

Even the decision on who is essential will vary with boards. A cook might be unessential in a town full of cooks. But in a war town lacking cooks he might be necessary.

How long will induction of men over 26-38 be postponed generally?

No accurate estimate is possible. For some, there may be no delay. For others, delay may be up to 90 days.

There is also this problem: Board AAA has 500 men under 26, Board BBB has only three under 26. What happens?

Board AAA delays drafting men over 26—except nonessentials—and concentrates on the men under 26 until it has taken them all.

Board BBB takes the three under 26 and tries to fill quotas with older men.

But what about over-26 men who are acceptable for service and ordered to report for induction this week? Must they report?

Yes, unless they have been notified not to report. If they have any doubt, they'd better see boards for advice.

Variety in Meals

By MARTHA LEE

WARTIME MEALS are apt to be monotonous and drab unless some imagination is used to lend variety.

Small amounts of ground meat or leftover chopped meat may be prepared in a variety of tasty main dishes. A well-seasoned white sauce made with milk may be used as the basis for a meat and vegetable shortcake—fluffy biscuits topped with creamed meat and vegetables.

A new and unusual combination of these basic foods is Upside Down Meat Muffins served with a savory onion-horseradish sauce.

UPSIDE DOWN MEAT MUFFINS

$\frac{3}{4}$ lb. ground beef or ham
1 tbsp. butter or bacon drippings
1 tsp. salt
 $\frac{1}{2}$ tsp. pepper
2 tbsp. milk

MUFFIN BATTER

2 cups enriched flour
3 tsp. baking powder
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup melted butter or bacon drippings
1 egg
 $\frac{1}{2}$ tsp. salt
1 cup milk

Add seasonings to meat and brown lightly in butter; add milk. Divide browned meat into 8 greased muffin pans. Sift flour, measure; sift with dry ingredients. Beat eggs; add milk and melted butter. Pour liquid into dry ingredients, stirring only until dry ingredients are dampened; do not beat. Pour batter on top of meat, filling pans about 2-3 full. Bake in hot oven, 400 deg. F., for 20 to 25 minutes. Serve with white sauce to which onion and horseradish have been added. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

MEAT BALLS WITH ONION SAUCE

2 eggs, beaten
 $\frac{3}{4}$ cup milk
1 $\frac{1}{2}$ cups soft bread crumbs
1 $\frac{1}{2}$ lbs. ground beef, ground twice

1 $\frac{1}{2}$ tsp. salt
3 tbsp. fat
1 15-oz. can ready-to-serve onion soup

Stir the eggs, milk and crumbs together. Mix with the meat and salt. Form into 14 balls. Brown on all sides in the fat, then add the soup and simmer 15 minutes, turning several times. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

MEAT SHORTCAKE

Baking powder biscuits
1 $\frac{1}{2}$ cups medium white sauce
Butter or margarine
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup leftover gravy
 $\frac{1}{2}$ tsp. Worcestershire sauce
2 cups diced, cooked beef, veal or lamb

Prepare biscuits and bake just before serving; split and spread with butter. Prepare white sauce, stir in gravy and

Upside Down Meat Muffins

Worcestershire sauce, and bring to a boil, adding milk or water if too thick; add meat and heat thoroughly. To serve, cover bottom halves of buttered hot biscuits with creamed meat, place other halves on top and cover with remaining creamed meat. If less meat is used garnish with 2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced. Makes 6 servings.

MEDIUM WHITE SAUCE

2 tbsp. butter or margarine
2 tbsp. flour
1 cup milk, rich milk or light cream
 $\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. salt
 $\frac{1}{2}$ tsp. pepper

Melt butter and stir in flour; gradually stir in milk and stir until mixture boils and thickens, then cook about 3 minutes longer, stirring occasionally; add seasonings. Place over hot water to keep hot and cover tightly to prevent crust from forming on top. Makes about 1 cup of sauce.

Will Glorify Your Teeth Beauty

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

WHEN A GAL has lovely teeth . . . she wants to smile a happy smile and show them . . . Or are you the gal for whom they penned the ditty . . . "There are smiles that make you sad" . . . because you have to suppress that great, big provocative smile . . . because you can't open your mouth and flash a flock of pearly-white molars . . . dazzling and shiny-bright.

What's that you say? Your teeth are dingy and nicotine-stained . . . discolored by fillings and unattractive . . . that's why you must suppress a wide-open smile and girlish laughter? Then, you haven't heard about a remarkable preparation for the teeth . . . a cosmetic which covers them as you would cover your fingernails . . . whitening them, at least, six shades lighter.

You've longed for that "posed for an advertisement" look for your teeth . . . but Nature wasn't that kind to you . . . is that what you say? Or your teeth have a definite affinity for nicotine through smoking?

WILL SKY ROCKET YOUR FACIAL CHARM

Well, cosmetics have come a long way . . . and now your teeth can enjoy the benefits of a beauty trick which will sky-rocket your facial charm to amazing captivation. You can now buy "smiles by the bottle" . . . for that's what you'll achieve once you've applied this preparation to your teeth . . . and you can "smile again."

Although NOT a substitute for dental care . . . this new cosmetic for the teeth is a harmless preparation . . . absolutely harmless . . . a beauty quick-trick which you coat your "biters" with to achieve a snow-white transformation for your mouth. One application is all you need until your teeth are ready for another . . . in much the same way as you apply fingernail polish. And, it is just as easily removed.

A tested preparation . . . it will cause no injury to either your teeth or gums . . . just another product for better-grooming thanks to the laboratory men who spend day on day thinking up new ways to beautify and glorify your charms.

Maybe you have an aversion to the dentist's chair . . . although you shouldn't for that ounce of prevention is a mighty good axiom to remember for your teeth. If you have . . . you'll dote on this new discovery . . . this "smiles by the bottle" achievement to quick-trick your eaters into white beauty.

Many of us gals need to have our teeth cleaned more often . . . it is both wise and necessary . . . but if you want your teeth to be dazzling white is a jiffy . . . this smile provoker is a unique preparation.

With its use . . . you'll feel as free as the air to broad-grin and laugh . . . with never a care about teeth that formerly might have been unattractive. And you'll be free to smoke without thought of the nicotine-staining of your molars . . . or that little filling in the tooth which shows. Enamel for the teeth and the remover come together . . . and with its use you'll smile a smile that will make you happy.

For the name of this "smiles by the bottle" teeth enamel, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBERTY 4000, except the week-end, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

What Divorcee Bride Wears

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN: I am a divorcee, 32 years old, and next month I am to be married in church. (My first marriage was when I was 16, and I ran away to be married.) What do you suggest that I wear at my second marriage . . . a long dress and picture hat or a suit? What should my attendant wear?

H. U.
You may properly wear a floor-length dress, dinner-type, simply designed, of the shade most becoming to you, perhaps a rich jewel-tone, with a matching or harmonizing hat. (Your attendant would then wear a dress of similar type and of a shade to harmonize with the shade of your dress.) Or you may wear a street-length afternoon dress, or your going-away suit.

Mutually Attracted

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I am a young man of 20, studying to be a doctor. My father is wealthy and an influential man. My mother died while I was very young.

Just before the Christmas holidays my father married a beautiful woman, only one year older than I am. When I arrived home for the holidays we met and were immediately attracted to one another—in fact we've fallen in love. It all happened during that vacation because we were together constantly, as my father spent most of his time at the office.

"Vicky" (as I shall call her) thinks that my education is more important, and that we should not tell my father right now, because if he knew, he would disinherit me and I would have no money to finish my education.

I know I can't go on like this, and I think it's unfair to my father. Please, Miss Fairfax, tell us what to do?

D. S. E.
There's absolutely nothing to do if you and the "beautiful woman" are decent sort of people, but to stop seeing each other and get over this unnatural attraction as soon as possible. The best way to get over an affair of this kind is to take an interest in someone else.

Hats Smaller, Charming

By BETTINA BEDWELL

THE rage in millinery is hats that are small, and smaller, and what is worrying a lot of people in the business is how soon they'll reach the vanishing point.

However, small though they be at the moment, the smart hats are so charming I doubt that the ladies will want to forego them at any time in the immediate future. And the sample sketched by Miss Dulin is one proof of this. This is the mob cap, a new style from Lilly Dache, who probably makes more nation-wide millinery styles than anybody else.

This one is made of black organdie and trimmed with ruffles of narrow black fringe, sparkling with gold sequins. It ties around the back hair with braid, edged with tassels. The mob cap also comes in practical morning editions made of pique and felt and such things.

A VAST THRONG of music lovers filled every seat and every box in the Golden Horseshoe at the Opera House last evening for the Metropolitan Opera's presentation of "The Masked Ball" by Verdi, opening attraction of Boston's brief opera season.

The music was gay and luring and so flawlessly performed as ever but as far as the audience was concerned it was noticeable that the traditional glamour and brilliance of opera first nights has gone to war. The age of elegance when diamond tiaras flashed on practically every feminine head and genuine chinchillas and ermines were thrown back to display the latest styles in gowns and jewels, has temporarily gone the way of other pre-war customs.

To be sure there were a few faithful first nighters doing their best to keep alive the old glamour but for every woman lavishly gowned there were dozens in street clothes.

Gayest spot during intermission was the champagne bar where everyone gathered to exchange greetings and toast Met Manager Edward Johnson. Chatting in a merry foursome were Mr. and Mrs. Gelston King and their Sherborn neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Saltonstall. Blonde Mrs. King had her usual opera box and wore a striking black satin gown with emerald epaulettes and long black suede gloves. Mrs. Saltonstall's slim black dinner gown was embroidered with pastel sequins.

Enjoying the performance from the same box she has occupied for many years Mrs. Hugh Bancroft was accompanied by her brother-in-law, Mr. Guy Bancroft, and her daughter- and sons-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Cox and the newlywed Lieut. and Mrs. Edwin Steele. Jane, the attractive bride, wore a slim white dinner gown with long sleeves and gold sequin embroidery on the bodice.

IN AN AUDIENCE where corages and flower hair ornaments were noticeably lacking, Mrs. Wallace McI. Scudder's unusual flower leis attracted much admiration. Worn in a tangerine dinner gown the leis was of soft yellow carnation blossoms. Mrs. Harold Field Kellogg (Mary Elizabeth Sears) strolling behind their box with her Navy bridegroom, wore white chiffon with a small gold wreath in her blonde hair. Mrs. Charles Donovan's pale gray tulle over a pink was a springlike combination and Mrs. T. Barnet Ellington chose gray lace over American Beauty with an American Beauty bow in her pretty white hair.

THE MILITARY was represented by Gen. and Mrs. Sherman Miles who were guests of H. Wendell Endicott, director of the Boston Opera Association. Oliver Wolf, treasurer, wore a white tie coat; his daughters wore black chiffon evening shorties. Mrs. George D. Morgan, Jr., also chose a short dress, a gay print with a black net hem and silver fox jacket. Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. P. Kennard, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Danforth, Diana Bird, Mrs. Franklin Hobbs with a heavy pearl choker necklace about a gold bolero gown. Darryl Almy and Mrs. Robert Knowles were others in the throng.

The wives of two former Bay State governors sat side by side in the center box—Mrs. Alvan T. Fuller in Mayflower pink lace with diamond earrings and Mrs. Frank G. Allen in black lace with soft pink roses on the bodice.

Governor Calls For Valor of '75

In a proclamation calling for the annual observance of Patriots' Day a week from tomorrow, Gov. Saltonstall urges the displaying of flags, exercises in churches, schools and homes and continued hard work at war jobs as means of recalling the valor of Minute Men at Concord and Lexington.

The Governor points out that from "this heroic period of our history" we may find inspiration "to meet the requirements of our time."

TEACHING THE YOUNG IDEA HOW TO BE A BRUTE

This Is a "Sport"—Closing in on a tired and frantic red fox, an animal terribly frightened after hours of entrapment within an ever narrowing circle of screaming, ground-beating hunters, are some of the 600 men, women AND CHILDREN of Holmes County, O. The hunt—one is held every week-end—is not a hunt with guns. The fox, whose crime is killing quail, which the men of Holmes County themselves want to do, will be beaten to a death with clubs. This is a "sport" in Holmes County.

Is His Father Proud?—An 11-year-old boy here is beating the spent fox to death. In back, a club in his hands, is a 4-year-old boy, who is learning early the idea of how to be a brute.

The Kill—The fox is dead, but under the urging of his elders the boy hits him again. And now that the fox is still, the little fellow in back can't seem to figure it out. The crowd knows. Note their faces, laughing, excited faces. They have hunted down a wretched animal and, after catching him, have beaten him to death.

Lessons in Cruelty

Eleven-Year-Old Child Beats Helpless Fox

Celebrating Ki

Ready for the Kill—Now the circle has been closed and the fox faces his grinning, shouting tormentors—the "sportsmen" of Holmes County. The fox cannot escape. He can but wait, not knowing what these men will do. But the men do, for the moment to kill is at hand. They are big men and brave men. They are going to beat this fox to death. They will urge the boys in that line to be brutes, too.

Massachusetts Deserts Young Fighters

THE BEHAVIOR of the Massachusetts Republican Party in respect to votes for young service men is disgraceful and shocking.

Yesterday, when the House of Representatives voted 107 to 92 against giving soldiers, sailors and marines of 18, 19 and 20 years of age the privilege of the ballot, the Republicans provided most of the opposition.

To the great credit of the Democrats and their leader, Michael J. Neville, the Democratic members of the House supported the fighting men.

WHAT IS THE MATTER WITH THE MASSACHUSETTS REPUBLICAN PARTY?

PARTICULARLY, WHAT IS THE MATTER WITH GOVERNOR SALTONSTALL?

Most Americans believe that a man old enough to risk the peril of the gun is also old enough to enjoy the privilege of the ballot.

Most Americans believe that our fine young fighting men are as competent and intelligent as many of the naturalized aliens who are voting in all elections.

Most Americans believe that a teen-age Army officer who frequently makes decisions involving the lives of thousands on the battle front can be trusted with the responsibility of voting for a town official back home.

Most Americans believe that all the men in the military forces deserve the best their grateful State and nation can give them.

BUT MR. SALTONSTALL AND HIS REPUBLICAN FOLLOWERS SEEM TO THINK DIFFERENTLY.

Because of their attitude, a teen-age soldier from Massachusetts can stand shoulder to shoulder with his elders on the mountain peaks of Italy or in a jungle of the South Pacific, BUT THE TEEN-AGE SOLDIER CAN NOT STAND SHOULDER TO SHOULDER WITH HIS ELDERS AT THE BALLOT BOX IN THE COUNTRY FOR WHICH HE RISKED HIS LIFE.

Parents, relatives and friends of the young servicemen who have been denied the voting privileges they have earned and richly deserve, will not forget what the Massachusetts Republicans have done.

It is a blot on Governor Saltonstall's record.

It is a humiliating chapter in the history of his party.

Mr. Saltonstall had an opportunity to show his friendship for thousands of soldiers, sailors and marines who are bearing the brunt of this horrible war.

The Republican Party had an opportunity at the same time to show its friendship.

Both of them failed.

Both of them turned deaf ears to the pleas of young veterans of Guadalcanal, North Africa, Sicily and other battle zones who expected better treatment from the Governor and the Legislature of Massachusetts.

Of course, it would be a serious mistake to rebuke all Republicans for the faults of those on Beacon Hill.

The fighting men have sincere and loyal friends in the Republican Party.

Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers of Lowell and Congressman Joseph Martin of North Attleboro are two of the many Republicans who have always supported soldiers and unflinchingly fought for their welfare.

Perhaps Mrs. Rogers and Mr. Martin could be induced to come to Boston to plead for the teen-age servicemen.

These fine young Americans certainly need to have illustrious voices raised in their behalf.

Our Fuel Safeguard

ALFRED C. LANE, professor emeritus of geology and mineralogy at Tufts College, has commended the burning qualities of New England peat.

In a recent lecture at the Twentieth Century Club he suggested that this fuel, which is found in abundance in marshes throughout this part of the country, might be used in place of coal when the latter is difficult to obtain.

New England has a better source of fuel than Professor Lane's peat.

Properly developed and harnessed for the production of electricity, our rivers and streams would heat our homes and operate our industrial plants for a fraction of the present cost.

A Patriotic Challenge

BOSTON CITY HALL has challenged the State House and Federal Building to equal or better the 6670 pounds of waste paper its house-cleaning yielded last week.

Both should accept the invitation.

In view of their size and number of offices, the State House and Federal Building should be able to double the City Hall contribution.

But the paper hunt should not be restricted to public property. It should extend into all business and industrial centers in the land.

"AS to your Horses & Women Department," writes a New Yorker, "let us have less about women and more about horses: those horses are hard to figure." In response to this reasonable request, the above is quoted. It could be applied to Jockey George Woolf or Eddie Arcaro, or the rising young horseman A. Skaronski. It was the Marquis of Queensbury who first said: "Good horse, good jockey, good bet. Good horse, fair bet. Good horse, bad jockey, no bet." . . . One encyclopedia widely circulated in the United States says: "The Japanese are essentially a kindly-hearted, laughter-loving people." Another widely circulated encyclopedia states that "chivalry in war" is a Japanese characteristic. People owning these encyclopedias should be given a revised estimate of the Japs so they could paste it over the old ones.

SIDELIGHTS: Agnes Repplier, the writer, says she has been smoking cigarettes since she was 15. She is 89 years old now. . . . Greer Garson's favorite dish is Irish stew. She prefers the North Irish stew, which has dumplings in it. . . . Among the things that puzzle me is the statement by Australian Army Minister Ford that the Australian army will be reduced by 90,000 men in the next 12 months. It would seem that the way things are in the Pacific the Australian army should be increased.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: It is a good idea for a saleswoman to be genial and friendly but calling the feminine customers "Honey" seems to be overdoing it a little. . . . In one hotel in the Times Square section of Manhattan, they have seven house detectives on duty daily and 11 on Saturday. . . . Dispatch says a woman in Capetown, South Africa, gave birth to a baby in a taxicab. That has happened in New York several times. However, this was the fourth baby of this Capetown woman and her first was born in a picture theater, her second in a dentist's office and her third in a department store.

baby. She is 43. Her husband is 49. It is a boy. . . . Note it stated that after the war one make of automobile will be sold by department stores. That is not a new idea. Some of the first Ford automobiles made were sold by Wanamaker's. . . . Dr. S. G. Harootian, experimenting with a view to eliminating toothache, is reported as optimistic. Here's hoping the good doctor succeeds with this truly noble experiment. As to a toothache, I agree with Thomas Hood, who wrote:

Of all our pains since man was cursed,
I mean of body, not of mental,
To name the worst among the worst
The dental sure is transcendental.

BRIEFLY: All fountain lunch counters should have a place where female customers could park their bundles. As it is, the women patrons put their bundles on the counter or on the adjoining seat. And when you ask most of them to remove the bundle so you can sit down they give you a nasty look. . . . A soldier in New Guinea, while digging in the jungle, looked up and saw a 19-foot snake coming toward him. He managed to kill it after a terrific struggle. "I was really scared," said the soldier. That is not difficult to believe. I have noticed, with interest, that most good fighting men are not afraid to admit it when they have been scared. The finest type of courage is to do things you are afraid to do.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—The major says the song "I'd Leave My Happy Home for You" was popular around 1910. The colonel says it was popular in the year following the Spanish American war. Who wins? A—The colonel is the winner. Harry von Tilzer wrote that ditty in 1899.

My Day By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Monday—We had children in the White House with us over Easter, and the youngest members of our family have acquired a little white Easter bunny. To the children who read my daughter's story about "Scamper" in the White House several years ago, there will be no surprise in the fact that this new bunny was promptly named Scamper.

He was brought by some WAVES as an Easter gift to Fala. I was a little afraid that even Fala's good education might not have eradicated his natural instincts as far as rabbits are concerned, so their meeting was brief, and the bunny now resides in a box of his own.

WE ALL ATTENDED THE EARLY Easter morning services at Arlington. This is always a very impressive ceremony to me. We walked out to the Unknown Soldier's Tomb, which, in a time of war, has a particularly poignant meaning.

Here one should, without question, rededicate oneself to the effort to lay foundations on which peace may be built by the generation that fights the war in the immediate postwar period. These young people will undoubtedly have to rebuild this torn and tattered world.

AS EACH STEP IS TAKEN in this rebuilding process, we will see a peaceful world being shaped, or we will see the steps that lead to war being carved out again by personal and national greed and self-interest.

I am doing a broadcast today in the Treasury Department's grandmother series. I thought I was doing pretty well with 13 grandchildren, but one of my co-grandmothers on this broadcast is far ahead of me.

"I know the salary's not much, but don't forget—you girls always eat a DINNER in the second act!"

HOLLYWOOD, April 11.—So many movies are mentioned for Cary Grant that when I hear he is to make a picture I say, "Does Cary know it?" This time he does know he is to star in "The Greatest Gift," an original by Philip Van Doren Stern, for Charlie Koerner bought it with the popular Mr. Grant in mind.

Moreover, Charlie has handed the story over to Marc Connelly to prepare and to be the next Grant epic for RKO. It's the story of a man who wishes he had never been born, and presto change, he is taken off the earth and becomes a "ghost" spirit. A sort of Lupe Velez of unseen influence, much like "Tupper," which Cary also played. The price paid was $15,000 but that's only a starter, with Marc writing the adaptation.

LUPE VELEZ, who is between beg romances since her romance with Arthur de Cordova chilled, will have to concentrate on her career for excitement, at least until another "love" comes along in her life. Lupe will star in "Next Comes Love" (it usually does with her) for the Sydney M. Williams productions at Republic. Williams is a former assistant city attorney of Los Angeles who has turned producer. Far be it from me to add—that's like turning from one life of crime to another!

The story is an original by Lazlo Vaday, who also directs.

CLAUDETTE COLBERT isn't signing any movie contracts. She tells me she expects to free lance. She's leaving Friday for Oregon to be with Lieut. Comdr. Joel Pressman and remain with him until his ship leaves for overseas. "I am going to take a rest," said Claudette, "and be free to do pictures at any studio that offers me a story I like." That means she can select her stories. She's had an offer from Universal to do "As Before, Better Than Before," for Bruce Manning, and long-term contracts have been offered by Warners and 20th, but she is saying "no." She has just finished 10 years at Paramount.

ANNE GILLIS, now a grown young lady of 17, makes her comeback in "A WAVE, a WAC and a Marine," playing the WAC. I've heard an interesting account of why Ann has been off the screen for the past two years. It seems when she was about 15 she began to put on a lot of weight and slid right up the scale to 135. Because she was young it was difficult for her to reduce. Now she has slimmed to 106 pounds and has a regular glamour girl figure. Incidentally, Ann has acquired an "E" to her first name. She says she's been lucky since acquiring the extra letter in her name.

Broadway By Dorothy Kilgallen

NEW YORK, April 11—You may never have encountered its succinct message etched in needlework on a quaint old sampler, but there is an adage so familiar to Broadwayites that, if you get around at all, you have probably heard many times—usually when it is being imparted to someone who has just discovered the truth of it all by himself. It is: "Never bet on horses or women."

The adage also can apply to less stereotyped situations than the backstage at the Roxy Theater. Chai'ing with Harry Richman in his dressing room between shows yesterday, I listened to him tell a story that is a twist of the old saw. It was about a horse that won.

FLORIDA is home to Richman. He likes spending most of the winter months in his big, comfortable house edging Biscayne Bay. For quite a long time now, one of his permanent community posts has been that of chairman of the judges' committee for the annual "Miss Florida" beauty contest.

About six years ago, he and his committee members selected as that year's winner a shapely beauty whose name eludes Richman's memory now. Following the contest finals, he invited "Miss Florida" to come to the Royal Palms Club, where he was headlining, and just to be friendly he also invited the three runners-up.

During his performance, he took time out to ask the winner and the three less fortunate beauties to step out on the dance floor so the audience could look them over. The spotlight shone on four smiling young girls, dressed in their brand new evening gowns. Richman cracked: "It's a pity you can't see them in their bathing suits," and before he realized what had happened the audience exploded into a roar of mingled cheers, whistles, guffaws and applause.

THE THIRD runner-up, it seems, had blithely unzipped her evening gown, letting it drop to the floor—and she stood revealed in a brief and specular bathing suit.

"That's a girl!" joshed Richman, when he had caught his breath, "who should really go places—because she's always prepared."

He was kidding, of course, but not long ago in Hollywood was introduced to Veronica Lake and she reminded him about the time when he was judge of a beauty contest she lost in the days when she was just another unknown by the name of Veronica Keane.

"Remember," asked Veronica, "how they howled when you said 'I do places'?"

Star Shine By Sidney Skolsky

HOLLYWOOD, April 11—If you believe the New York movie critics can be harsh in writing about a picture, you ought to catch what the exhibitors have to say about pictures in the Motion Picture Herald. They really let a picture have it.

Exhibitor E. Gordon of Saskatchewanan, Canada, gives it to "Invisible Agent": "Here is another from Universal that belies the fact that there is supposed to be a film shortage. In this case, too bad it is not a little shorter."

Barbara Stanwyck

Then Exhibitor H. M. Gerber of Hazelton, N. D., gives it to "The Youngest Profession": "So young, in fact, it should have been left in the incubator until it grew up. I don't know what class of trade this picture was aimed at, for it sure missed the mark. The old folks stayed away in the first place, and the kids walked out on us. This is the first picture we have played which the kids couldn't even take. We had no more walk-outs, every once in a while I would sneak around the corner to see if they were all gone so I could stop the show. . . . I usually put my advertising out for five days' show after playing a picture, but on this one I waited two days in the vain hope that people would have forgotten about it before I had to face them, but it was no good; they still rib me about it."

Now you know that's being tougher than the ordinary paid critic.

THE BARRAGE continues: Exhibitor K. John, of Saskatchewanan, Canada, has this to say about "Nobody's Darling": "We didn't make a dime on this picture and it wasn't on account of the weather, either. It is just a program picture, and as far as we are concerned, a rotten one at that."

Exhibitor Gerber comes in with a comment on "The Human Comedy": "This picture may be human, but I can assure you it was very short on comedy. It is very depressing and the box office value was nil. Not even Mickey can pull them in to see a picture like that."

Concerning "Drums of Fu Manchu," Exhibitor W. J. Ilaney of Milan, Ind., hasn't much to say: "I have played worse, but I don't know when."

Then Exhibitor Hudson writes about "Lady of Burlesque": "This is a very poor picture, and having Barbara Stanwyck sing is like putting Frank Sinatra in tights."

George Holland Boston After Dark

THEY MAY BE HEROINES in Hollywood and the magazines and war-movies, but America's nurses in real military and naval life are getting the worst of the deal—as most of the girls have been getting it for years in civilian life. . . . A WAC or a WAVE, for instance, gets full rank in the Army and Navy respectively. . . . But the poor Army or Navy nurse gets only "relative" rank. . . . As Dorothy Sutherland points out in "The Story Behind the Army Rank Bill" in a nurses' magazine, this "relative rank" is a "mysterious classification which few people understand and fewer will bother to explain."

"RELATIVE" INSTEAD OF "ACTUAL" rank has a meaning which is very clear to the 50,000-odd Yankee girls now serving as nurses to the Army or Navy. It means, for one thing, that most nurses will end the war with the rank they were given when commissioned. . . . It means that promotions are so rare as to be non-existent. . . . It means that a nurse second-lieutenant, disabled in line of duty, is entitled only to retirement pay of $810 a year, which is 75 per cent of $1080. . . . (The latter sum is the limit under an old law which the War Department, according to reports, hopes to keep on the books). . . . If a second-lieutenant WAC should rate retirement pay, she would be granted 75 per cent of $1800 or $1350 a year, which benefit derives from "actual" and not "relative" rank.

IN THE NAVY, the lieutenant-nurses in blue uniforms are on virtually the same basis as their sisters in the Army Nurse Corps. . . . And the girls in both services lose out in the matter of allotments for dependents. . . . At present nurses receive only the allowances permitted officers without dependents. . . . WACS, WAVES and SPARS, on the contrary, get the same dependency allowances as men officers. . . . Something is being done about the discrimination of the military nurses, and it has taken the form of a bill known as H. R. 3761. . . . It was introduced last December by Rep. Francis P. Bolton, and is now held in the House Military Affairs Committee pending a report on the measure from the War Department.

AND THE WAR DEPARTMENT—for reasons of post-war convenience when the enlarged Nurse Corps goes back to peacetime size—is expected to oppose the bill. . . . Cong. Phil Philbin of Harvard is going to do his best to get support for the bill, but he is acting anonymously and with no hope of political aggrandizement. . . . The Congressmen might look the bill over with this in mind: Are Navy nurses being given the same consideration under the measure as their sisters in the Army? . . . Some of the letters received by this department bespeak the authors' puzzlement on the question. . . . The Bolton bill, one correspondent says, speaks only of Army nurses and the Navy girls would seem to be entitled to legislative language which speaks specifically of them. . . . It would be nice if some public support could be mustered for H. R. 3761.

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY: Noel Toy's name was not just an inspired professional name, given the dainty little Chinese-American dancer because Noel means Christmas and Toy is Noel's family name. . . . Noel actually was born on Christmas day. . . . Miss Toy is appearing at the Rio Casino, but her growing popularity in the past few seasons has made her a "name" in Boston, and many of the major clubs are ready to book her.

Jobs on Farms For JVA, Scouts

Boys of the Junior Victory Army affiliated with the Boston Council, Boy Scouts, are expected to be well represented in the "1944 Scout Farm Work Reserve" now being organized under direction of O. A. Kitterman, scout executive.

The reserves will be made up of scouts and senior scouts who would like farm employment during summer vacation.

Last year a delegation of scouts, including JVA members, went to Aroostock County, Me., to pick potatoes and many others worked in apple orchards and on farms in Massachusetts.

The need for this service in 1944 is expected to be even greater than that of last year since more men have gone into the armed services.

All scouts are urged to register now, if he wants farm employment, so his name will be on file. All scoutmasters have been provided with registration blanks and will issue membership cards to those who enroll. Registrations do not obligate the applicant to serve if developments change his plans.

To join the JVA, send your name, age and address to Junior Victory Army headquarters, P. O. Box 228, Boston, Mass. If, in addition to enlistment, you want the JVA insignia pin and membership card, enclose a 10-cent coin well-wrapped in your letter.

Read the next JVA story in Wednesday's Daily Record.

Brilliant 'Masked Ball' Opens Grand Opera Week

By LEO GAFFNEY

Boston's annual week of de luxe grand opera began last night with all the aplomb that could be expected under war-time conditions.

The big Opera House on Huntington ave. was sold to the limit—and whatever was lacking in luxuriance on both sides of the footlights was compensated by the evident relish for the performance and champagne at the bar!

It was Verdi's "The Masked Ball," chosen as the curtain-raiser for the double reason that the locale is given as Boston, in Colonial days, and that it is nearly two decades since the work has been sung here.

The original libretto specified Sweden as the place for this operatic dirty-work-at-the-crossroads, but the European censors of 1859 weren't pleased. And so the switch to Boston.

To jog failing memories, "The Masked Ball"—not at all a bad story to hitch a flock of airs and recitatives to—is the one about the governor who got stabbed for shining up to the wife of his best friend.

Of course the governor was innocent, but Best Friend didn't know until too late, leaving him full of operative remorse. Other noticeable standbys besides the famous dagger thrust are the contralto fortune-teller; the two basso marplots, the Veiled Lady, the Mistaken Motive and, for last-act spectacle, the glittering masked ball wherein the deed is done.

The performance was uniformly excellent. Jan Pearce sang the Governor with smooth splendor; Leonard Warren was most impressive as Renato (or Reinhardt) the Best Friend, her famous "Eri tu" aria coming over like a thundercloud; Kerstin Thorborg was sumptuous, as always, as the soothsayer. Zinka Milanov gave stunning voice and proud bearing to the Veiled Lady—and Virgilio Lazzari and Nicola Moscona growled menacingly as the fell conspirators.

In short, it was a real pleasure to see "The Masked Ball" again, particularly when it could be conducted by that reliable authority, Bruno Walter, who is unexcelled at the complicated mechanism of grand-scale opera.

Tonight's opera is Mozart's "The Magic Flute," with Walter again conducting, and with Pinza, Kulman, Moconza Bowman, Conner and Brownlee as principal singers of a whooping cast.

Gansett Horses Ready For Races, Says Ty Shea

By JACK CONWAY

RACING WILL get off to a flying start at Narragansett Park tomorrow in what promises to be the most successful meeting in the history of the Rhode Island track. One received an indication of what to expect of racing in the North this year at Jamaica on Saturday when 47,000 persons wagered $2,601,836.

"There is only one New York," said Judge Dooley, when discussing the Jamaica boom. "but I think we shall still do very well at Narragansett Park. We have an abundance of horses that are ready for the races and I feel we shall put on a good show."

Chas. F. Connors

Racing Secretary Ty Shea has been on the job for more than a week. Ty knows the New England racing picture as a result of his association with Suffolk Downs and Agawam. Shea has the confidence of the horsemen, and he should not experience any difficulty filling races. She says the horses at the track are ready to race.

Norman Charlton, new Narragansett Park steward, is also at the track. Charlton has only missed one New England racing meeting since the thoroughbred sport was introduced at Rockingham Park under the pari-mutuel form of betting.

Charlton has many friends in this part of the country. He has the necessary knowledge of racing and judgment to make a good steward.

Charlton will be associated with Sam Nichols and State Steward Hap Fenelon.

The race track handicappers are also on the Gansett scene. Dave Wilson checked in from Florida, and is busy preparing his handicaps on tomorrow's racing for the Green Race Special edition of the Boston American.

Souvenir Green Special

THE GREEN RACE Special of the Boston American, which today is considered the most important edition of its kind in the country, will celebrate the Narragansett Park opening with a souvenir edition. This racing edition will be the finest ever published, and will enable the Green Race Special to win new favor with the public.

The biggest staff of racing experts and sports authorities ever to write for a single racing edition will help to make the souvenir edition of the Green Race Special an outstanding feat of journalism.

I have been checking over some of the material that will appear in the Green Race Special. There will be handicaps on Narragansett Park by Dave Wilson and Bill McAuley, selections and Turf Crystal by Dave Komie, daily double combinations by Komie, Fred Keats' Jamaica form, Gaby's Pimlico form, workouts, the complete racing schedule of all tracks for 1944, and special articles by Charles F. Connors, president of the National Association of Racing Commissioners; Charles F. Adams of Suffolk Downs, Judge James E. Dooley of Narragansett Park, Lou Smith of Rockingham, Ty Shea of Narragansett Park, Dave Wilson, Horace Wade, Bill McAuley, Eli Chiat, Bill Corum and this writer.

There will be racing pictures as well as pictures of racing leaders. Arlington Faces Newton Nine

By MIKE GILLOOLY

A preview of the explosive quality of the Suburban Schoolboy League will be on display tomorrow afternoon when defending champion Arlington, sparked by the combined coaching efforts of Fred Ostergren and Gus Gardella, invades the home grounds of the pre-season favorite, Newton, for the opener of their baseball campaigns.

Two other non-league contests, completing the schoolboy card, will find Revere at Lynn English and Waltham at Middlesex, all making their seasonal debuts.

In spite of the fact that Arlington will have but two veterans of last year's crack nine on the field—Dick Blanchard, shortstop, and Dave Sheehan, pitcher, the fact that Ostergren and Gardella will be at the reins insures a successful season for the team. Since he first entered the circuit, Ostergren has never had a club out of the first division and with Gardella at his aide, the pair promise to keep this record intact.

Sheehan, tossing them up to catcher Shad Burns, will carry the hopes of the Arlington team against a classy, veteran Newton outfit.

Garden City lettermen will round out a smart infield with Wes Hayes as the probable pitching choice. Noel Roberts behind the plate, Johnnie Recco, Chuckie Bryson, Roger Bryant and Hank Geary backing up the experienced battery. On the strength of these veterans, Newton shapes up as the team to beat in the Suburban circuit.

Coach Bill Seegitz's Peabody High School football team will wind up its spring training Friday night at Manning Bowl, Lynn, in a flood-light game against LaSalle Academy eleven, Providence, R. I. . . . The Tanners will have an entirely veteran backfield of Dick Keogh, Walter Roche, Tony Kravchuck and Jack Connolly and two experienced tackles, John Berger, 210 pounds, and Henry Pelletier, 198 pounds . . . Peabody arm dropped a 12-0 decision to LaSalle last fall in Providence.

Catholic high school baseball competition will get underway Sunday afternoon with six games on the slate . . . In the Northern Division, St. Mary's of Lynn faces St. Clement's. Malden Catholic meets Immaculate Conception and St. Patrick's of Stoneham battles Cathedral, while St. John's draws a bye . . . The Southern Division will find St. Columbkille's at St. Mary's of Brookline; St. Mary's of Waltham at Our Lady's and St. Patrick's of Waltham at St. Charles . . . Mission will draw a bye.

Somerville High School's basketball champions will leave for their New York party tomorrow morning.

Dana MacNeil, veteran right-hander at Medford High, has been bothered in practice with a sore arm.

Credits Athletics For Nazi Escape

NORTH TONAWANDA, N. Y., April 11 (AP)—A former Temple end, Lieut. Charles W. Walters, credits his "long athletic background" for giving him stamina to work his way successfully through occupied Europe to England after his bomber crashed in southwest Germany.

Walters, now resting at home, said the Liberator he was piloting burst into flames after a bombing mission Jan. 7 on Ludwigshafen, poison gas manufacturing center.

In an interview last night, the 28-year-old flier said of the two months' escape trip: "It sure was rugged and the most of it was made on foot."

He added that three members of his crew were with him: Second Lieut. J. M. Brickley, co-pilot, Ft. Worth Tex.; Staff Sergt. Carl Hite, engineer, Gary, Ind., and Tech. Sergt. Louis Del Guidice, radioman, New Haven, Ct., and that they joined forces with three other American airmen shot down in a previous raid.

They were Capt. Peter Hoyt, pilot, Cleveland, O.; Second Lieut. William Cook, navigator, Phoenix, Ariz., and Bombardier Dan Hanslik, Saginaw, Mich.

"Several times we were very close to being captured, had little to eat and were bothered with the cold," Walter said, "but we were able to plot our way back to England through the use of the escape kit which is part of the equipment on American planes."

Kearns Fumes At Rule Changes

CHICAGO, April 11 (AP)—He didn't exactly say so, but one of these days Nick Kearns, veteran cage official, may decide to picket the National Basketball Committee as "unfair to organized referees."

Kearns, who has refereed Big Ten games for more than 20 years, was outspoken today in denouncing the committee's recent rules changes allowing a player five instead of four personal fouls a game, and outlawing so-called goal tending by tall boys.

Kearns fumed that the new regulations place too heavy a burden on officials. "In the last few years," he went on, "coaches already had doctored the rules so as to put 90 per cent of the burden of a game on officials. Now they've gone ahead and raised it to 99.9 per cent."

Filing a bill of particulars, he added that the five foul rule would encourage teams with a plentitude of players to foul with abandon.

Tobin, Andrews Set For Yankees Today

By BILL GRIMES

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 11—"Whether Joe McCarthy sends a right or a left-hander against us this afternoon," stated Mgr. Bob Coleman, "I'll have Tommy Holmes, 'Butch' Nieman and 'Frenchy' Gladu in the outfield."

The Braves came over here from Philadelphia this morning for a setto with the World's champion New York Yankees. They were beaten by the Phillies yesterday at Wilmington, Del., by Ken Raffensberger, a left handed fugitive from the St. Louis gas house gang, who was drafted from Los Angeles after winning 19 and losing 11 last season in the Pacific Coast League.

Yesterday, the Phillies were able to cash in because they were playing their eighth intra or inter league game. It was the first time out for the Braves, who hadn't played anything but intra-squad games. But, even so, there's no excuse for the Coleman's being held to three doubles by Raffensberger, who will have trouble winning after the National League barrier is sprung.

FARELL BACK AT FIRST
Jim Tobin and Nate Andrews will be on the mound this afternoon against the World's champions. They were to have worked against Newark Sunday but were prevented from making their 1944 debut by the weather rain. Kerby Farrell, who took over the first base assignment when Johnny McCarthy broke his leg in Chicago during the second Western trip last year, will be back on the initial sack this afternoon.

"Buck" Etchison seems to be the type of ball player, who follows prosperity to stymie him. He's a trifle set in his ways. So, by benching him, Manager Coleman is giving Etchison an opportunity to sit back and realize that he will do as he's told or else. Buck will be all right, and he'll be a fine asset to the Braves, when he understands that he must follow out orders.

Connie Ryan had a layoff coming to him after yesterday's exhibition. He was charged with two errors. He could have been charged with four. On the two wild throws, the official scorer had no alternatives. But, he should have ruled the hits he gave Ken Raffensberger and "Ace" Adams errors for Ryan played both of them very "sugar bush."

Unless Ryan does an about face, Mike Sandlock will get a crack at third base. Mike is a hustler and a more reliable fielder. He's a sharp hitter but lacks power.

BOSS LIKES GLADU

Manager Coleman is very high on "Frenchy" Gladu, the little Canadian outfielder, who has been displaying tremendous power since he started working out with the Braves. Two of the three hits the Braves made off Raffensberger were by the Frenchman. The first time up, Gladu smashed one over Ron Northey's head and against a wind of almost gale velocity for a double and on his fourth trip to the plate, he rifled one to right center for another two-bagger. And, moreover, on both of his other appearances, Gladu hit the ball on the nose.

Reds Break Camp

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., April 11 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds broke camp at the Indiana University fieldhouse today and prepared for a return to Cincinnati. The Reds were forced, indoors after rains made a quagmire out of Jordan Field.

Sox Homeward Bound Tonight

NEWARK, N. J., April 11—The Red Sox are back here again today seeking another Bear pelt after holding the Newark Bears to four hits and no runs while the Hub entry was collecting 4 runs behind the air tight hurling of Yank Terry and Mike Ryba.

The story of the game at Plainfield, N. J., was simply the story of Terry's masterful throwing for seven innings during which time he allowed the locals just two blows. Mike of the rubber arm tossed them up for the last two innings and gave up a hit in the fifth.

Boss Conlin feels lucky in that his charges got in a game yesterday. The wind was howling, the temperature was not exactly warm and rain threatened throughout. Ford Garrison brought joy to Joe's heart when, after taking over Bob Johnson's spot in left in the third inning he proceeded to do alright in the field and cracked out hits in the fifth and seventh which brought home two runs.

The Red Sox will start towards home after today's tilt with a stop off in Hartford tomorrow for a game with the Braves. The city series starts here at Braves Field Friday.

$450,000 Golf Club Goes Under Hammer

TULSA, Okla., April 11 (AP)—The $450,000 Oakhurst Country Club, its membership reduced from 500 to less than 100 since the war started, will be sold Wednesday at a sheriff's auction at the Sapula courthouse.

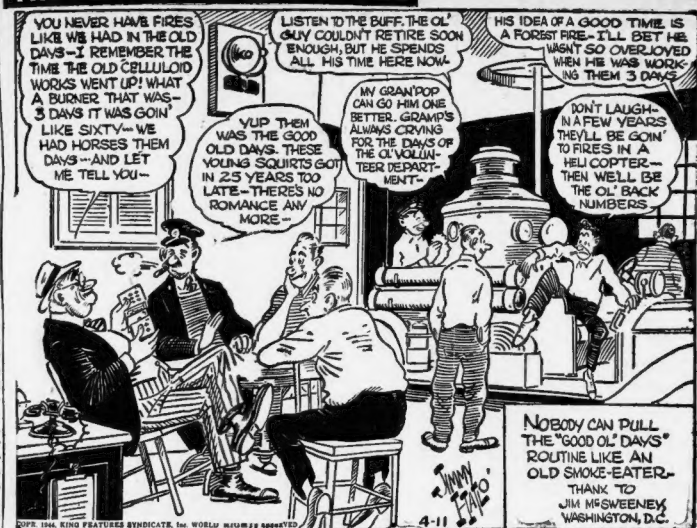

In addition to its 18-hole grass greens course, Oakhurst has a $105,000 club building, a large swimming pool and spacious picnic grounds for members. It covers 312 acres.

Louis to Box Conn After War

LONDON, April 11 (AP)—Sergt. Joe Louis, who is in Great Britain to give a series of morale-building exhibitions for American GIs, declared today he plans to fight again after the war, with Billy Conn as his opponent.

"I have set no age limit for when to retire," said the heavy-weight champion. "I am planning to fight Conn after the war, because since titles are frozen for the duration, positions such as the number one challenger also should be frozen, and Billy is it."

Louis, who wound up his first press conference with an exhibition "go" before 300 cheering soldiers, declared there was no chance of his taking on British Champion Freddie Mills, which British sports fans were anxious to see. "I want to meet Mills socially while I am here," Joe said, however, "because I think I had better size him up. You never can tell."

Louis stripped to the waist and went two rounds with his long-time sparring partner, George Nicholson, survivor of more than 20 Louis camps and 100 rounds with the champ.

Then the champ stepped two minutes with Tommy Ireland, local 48-year-old heavyweight, whose opponents have included Primo Cornera and Mike McTigue. Ireland "weighed in" at a pudgy 240 pounds.

Louis was greatly impressed by the blackout in London. "I wondered who took the lamp posts away," he grinned. When he was asked if he had lost any of his ability, Nicholson put in: "If he has, I don't feel it."

Paul Thompson's Job Safe for Next Year

CHICAGO, April 11 (AP)—Win or lose in the Stanley Cup hockey finals—and it looks like defeat—the Chicago Blackhawks will be piloted again next season by Paul Thompson.

Thompson, who became manager of the Hawks midway in the 1939-40 season, left with his squad today for Montreal for the fourth game of the title series, trailing by the lopsided score of 3-0. A victory Thursday for Montreal would terminate the playoffs.

In announcing Thompson's retention for next season, Blackhawk officials said attendance at this season's 29 home games hit an all-time high—425,000.

Ohio Boxers Lead For National Title

Placing nine men in the semi-finals, the Ohio team rates as the favorite to capture national honors in the second and last night of the 56th annual national championship fist tournament at the Garden tonight.

St. Louis is next on the list with five men and then comes Boston with four, followed by Oklahoma and Pennsylvania with three, Washington and New York with two and the rest strung out with only one representative.

Despite the superiority in numbers anyway, of the mid-Western entries, the local team still has a very good chance of capturing the crown.

In the 112's little Billy Murray, South End Negro scrapper, may be able to outpoint Mike O'Leary, the boy that stole the show yesterday. Both are fast and clever but O'Leary will have to be better than he was yesterday to get by the Bostonian.

Jim Griffin, another sailer-fighter from the Ammunition Depot at Hingham, is the local hope in the 125's and he'll need victories over Horace Tabbone of Joe Fiallo, which ever one wins their trial, to get by. But once by either of those tough bobbies, he should have smooth sailing.

New England hopes were given a crushing blow when Bobby Zollo, former 135-lb. America champ, was sent to the hospital with a head injury, but his substitute, Tony Celantano, another "Seabee," looks like the class of the 147's and his only competition will be in the person of Eddie Gettys of New Orleans, a repeater from last year.

Claude Brown drew a bye yesterday and shouldn't have too much trouble today and in the heaviest Bert Farmer, another "Seabee"—they must be a tough outfit—looks like the class of the field.

Schoolboy Unveils New Pitch

NEW ORLEANS, April 11 (AP)—There's a curly-haired schoolboy pitcher down here who has trained a regulation baseball to travel in such a curly fashion that nobody's been able to officially hit it this season.

In two starts for Holy Cross High School the slim six-foot Dick Callahan has come through with hitless, runless jobs. Only one batsman has been able to bump the

Special Floor Saved Vanities

A novel idea which had every indication of being a "winner" suddenly ran into a snag that almost proved disastrous.

It all concerns the colorful Skating Vanities which head into the Boston Garden Monday after sensational successes through the middle-west, south and west coast.

The sports revue on roller skates devised by Harold Stein was put into operation two years ago but the originator of the new sports entertainment found to his dismay that the noise of the skates on wooden or marble floors at the arenas his show played, killed the effect of the music and the sheer beauty of the production numbers.

The finest engineers in the nation were secured and after hundreds of experiments, they devised a masonite floor chemically treated to answer the problem and this floor was then built and used wherever the Vanities play.

Heading a grand array of stars will be Gloria Nord, 20-year-old beauty from the West Coast, who is the world's greatest ballerina on wheels. Then there is dynamic Ann Manion, who stops every show, and Dolly Durkin twice national pairs champion, just to name a few.

Oppose Collins In Grid Draft

PHILADELPHIA, April 11 (AP)—There may be a difference of opinion as to who should pick the first player in the draft of college grid stars when owners of National Football League clubs gather here next week.

Harry Thayer, general manager of the Philadelphia Eagles, dropped a hint that club owners might not be in agreement when he said yesterday that "some opposition" has developed to giving Ted Collins, owner of the new Boston franchise, the coveted first choice.

"If Collins does not intend to operate the franchise in Boston until after the war, some of the National League owners do not see any reason for him getting first choice," Thayer said.

Collins has already indicated that he intends to name Angelo Bertelli, former Notre Dame back as first choice.

When the club owners meet to select their men from the latest crop of collegiate stars they will draw in this order: 1, Chicago Cardinals; 2, Brooklyn Dodgers; 3, Detroit Lions; 4, Philadelphia Eagles; 5, New York Giants; 6, Green Bay Packers; 7, Washington Redskins; 8, Chicago Bears; 9, Pittsburgh Steelers; 10, Cleveland Rams; 11, Boston.

Bagby Expects Service Call About May 1st

ATLANTA, Ga., April 11 (INS)—Jim Bagby, pitcher for the Cleveland Indians, announced today he had been informed by the U. S. Maritime Commission he would be called for training about May 1.

Bagby, a 17-game winner for the Indians last year, was to have been sworn into the merchant marine this week.

Chandler, Bonham To Rejoin Yankees

Spud Chandler and Ernie Bonham, who between them pitched 35 winning games for the world champion New York Yankees last year, will be back with the Bronx bombers when the baseball season opens a week from today, according to the Associated Press.

The news that Chandler, who won 20 and lost four, and Bonham, who won 15 and lost eight, will rejoin the team before the end of week, was a tonic to Manager Joe McCarthy.

The 34-year-old Chandler and the 30-year-old Bonham both had been certified as acceptable for military service. However, neither has been called up and under the latest ruling of selective service, restricting the drafting of those older than 26, may be able to play for a time.

Chandler, who turned in an earned run average of 1.64 as well as beating the Cardinals twice in the World Series, is expected to join the team tomorrow at either Atlantic City or Plainfield, N. J. Bonham is expected to report Thursday in New York.

SPENCE, KUEHL HITTING

Other major league news: WASHINGTON—Outfielder Stan Spence and First Baseman Joe Kuehl were heavy hitters as Senators banged out 11 hits in beating Bainbridge Naval Station. WHITE SOX—Players told they will have tomorrow off to go apartment hunting in Chicago.

CUBS—Five rookies to start against White Sox Thursday: Don Johnson 2b; Bill Schuster ss; Tony York 3b; Andy Pafko cf, and Billy Holm c. Bill Nicholson, slugging outfielder, expected to bat third instead of cleanup.

CINCINNATI—Squad in "best possible physical condition," asserted Manager Bill McKechnie. CARDINALS—Only bright spot in St. Louis was arrival of Ted Wilks, Cardinal pitcher. Inclement weather curtailed workouts for both Cards and Browns.

COSCARART WITH BUCCOS. PIRATES—Infielder Pete Coscarart, expected to start third season with team against Cleveland at Indianapolis. Coscarart, who previously said he'd stick to war job at Escondido, Cal., reported yesterday.

CLEVELAND—Three players on casualty list: Mickey Rocco with foot injury incurred in volleyball game; Joe Heving struck on leg by line drive in batting practice; and Oris Hockett with sprained shoulder.

DETROIT—Team breaks camp today at Evansville, Ind. Six exhibition games drew only 5674 fans, one-third the turnout for five games a year ago. However, Tiger officials said inclement weather cut crowds.

BROOKLYN—Bobby Bragan, who used to play shortstop for Phillies before turning to catching, may play for Dodgers this season. He reported yesterday and was promptly put on the hot corner.

ball out of the infield. Twenty-six batsmen failed to touch it, which is to say, they whiffed.

The 20-year-old Callahan's success recipe:

"I just try to figure the man I'm pitchin' to; I've been awfully lucky, too."

WON 10 GAMES LAST YEAR

At any rate the Callahan luck is consistent. Last year he won 10 and lost none, boosting his Holy Cross buddies into the city championship, fanning 18 batters in one contest.

The youngster has a fast ball that squirts over the plate like a jet-driven aspirin tablet and he mixes this with a sharp sliding curve. Because Callahan is singularly hard to hit, it has gotten to the point where fans of opposing teams sheepishly applaud batsmen who get foul strikes off him.

Following last season he went into the Navy, but was invalided home recently when an old fence injury "began acting up."

His coach, George Digby, says, however, that certain big league scouts are not alarmed at the condition of the knee.
